

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTIONS

This chapter consist of the conclusion and the suggestion regarding to the findings of this research.

5.1 Conclusion

Based on the findings and discussion, this research has answered the research questions. Based on this research findings, it is known that there is no specific method or assessment specifically used by English teachers when assessing students' achievement. E-Report is making easier for teachers in the assessment process so that they finally get the final grade of students where the effect of this e-Report assessment is examples such as after students know the results of the assessment is determined by the interests and talents of the students themselves. Students who are usually not very interested in English definitely have no effect, but if students have known their weaknesses, surely those weaknesses will be a trigger to motivate students to study even harder. The effect for teachers is how they create an atmosphere so that students are happy in learning English. Then how English teachers use strategies to handle learning and how they deliver learning outcomes in the next phases or levels or learners that will be faced.

5.2 Suggestions

Based on the conclusion, the researcher would like to provide the following suggestion:

1) For the teachers

Researcher hope that the English teachers continue to use strategies that have been successful in increasing students' motivation in learning English and doing assignments so that the assessment process can also be carried out properly.

2) For the students

After getting the results of learning outcomes or final assessment of e-Report, students are expected to be better able to improve the quality of learning so that their learning outcomes will increase.

3) For the next researcher

This study was limited to the effect of Independent Curriculum e-Report, therefore, the researcher suggest to the next researcher to conduct research more about the effectiveness of English teacher assessment using e-Report and more about implication of e-Report